Sandy Chilewich

- Chilewich Bound Mats are available in custom sizes. Click here.
- Winner of the 2007 Material ConneXion Medium Award for textile design.

Sandy Chilewich has brought a new modern dimension to floor coverings with her flat-weave mats made of her company's pliant, proprietary vinyl called plynyl. Her Bound Mats, which won't fray at the edges, are available in several of her best-selling colors. Combining the visual interest of traditional floor coverings with the durability of synthetic materials, the Chilewich mats are soft, washable and stain resistant, impervious to spills and suitable to virtually any space, from high-traffic environments to next to the bed. A soft urethane backing prevents skidding or curling and adds cushioning. Bamboo charcoal has a dark green binding. All other colors have black binding. 5-year

Sandy Chilewich

Originally a jewelry designer, Chilewich co-founded HUE legwear in 1979. With partner Kathy Moskal, she revitalized the dormant hosiery industry with innovative product design, packaging, and merchandising. HUE was first to offer legwear in a wide spectrum of colors and pioneered the use of Lycra blended with natural fibers. In 1996, Ms. Chilewich opened her own design studio where she applies her interest in strong color palettes and experimentation with modern fibers and technologies to household products. The Raybowls, the first product collection to emerge from her studio, won the Best New Design award at the 1998 New York International Gift Fair, and another award in 1999 from the Industrial Designers Society of America.

Placemats, October 10, 2006

By Hostess from San Francisco, CA (read all my reviews)

"If you are tired of cloth placemats that shrink the first time you laundry them but want something stylish, these are the ones for you. Wipes clean with a wet cloth, colors are interesting enough that you can use many styles of napkins and dishes. Always receive compliments from company when I use them."

In her New York based studio, Sandy Chillewich applies her interest in color and experimentation with fibers to create her signature textile, woven vinyl. Her innovative use of yarn fuses style and sophistication to create tablemats, bags, cube ottomans and Plynyl flooring, available as floor mats, w2w and tile.

In 1978 she co-founded HUE, the women's legwear company. HUE is credited with revolutionizing the legwear market with their innovations in design, packaging and merchandizing. The company was sold in 1992 with sales grossing $40 million and it is still a thriving brand in the hosiery world today.

After HUE, she created her New York City based design studio and continued developing her fascination with textiles. RayBowls™, the first effort of her new studio, was introduced in November of 1997 and met with instant success. RayBowls™ has a simple and inventive mechanism for making fabric concave with covers made from stretch netting usually found in lingerie. RayBowls™ received a Mechanical and Utility patent for the process of making the fabric concave.

Chillewich has won many awards including Best New Design Award at the 1998 New York International Gift Fair; in 1999 an award from the Industrial Designers Society of America for RayBowls™ and an ICFF Award for Plynyl at the 2001 International Contemporary Furniture Fair in New York.

Chilewich Vinyl Tablemats

New York designer Sandy Chilewich has been translating her fascination with fabrics into functional art for many years now. She is credited for revolutionary innovations in woven vinyl that resulted in creation of an extensive line of tablemats and other accessories. Her creations are high in style and sophistication and low in maintenance and up keep. Inspired by modern technologies and innovative applications of materials, her award winning products are made in the USA and sold around the world. We would like to invite you to browse this section for Chilewich collection of placemats in a wide range of textures and colors. Perfect for today's urban loft style, perfectly complements today's most popular materials such as stainless steel, glass and exotic woods.

Chilewich Napkin Rings

WELCOME TO THE CHILEWICH

Chilewich is one of our favorite line of products. As a premier Chilewich retailer, we strive to provide the widest selection of Chilewich products at the best price. If an item is out of stock, we will have it ordered for you as quickly as possible.

Sandy Chilewich created her New York City based company, RayBovls™, the first effort of her new line, introduced in November of 1997, and met with great success. RayBovls™ have a simple and inventive meet fabric concave and have won Chilewich many prizes.

Chilewich Placemats and Table Runners

In keeping with her passion for creating new products, Chilewich has reinterpreted a woven vinyl textile into applications...table mats, floor mats and handbags. The yarn, its tremendous design versatility and washable, continues to inspire Chilewich.

Plynyl, a commercial grade floor surface was designed by husband Joe Sultan, an architect. Plynyl was bonding woven vinyl onto a cushioned polyurethane completely new category in flooring. Chilewich was honored for Plynyl at the 2001 International Contemporary Design Awards in New York.

ABOUT US

Contemporary Plynyl® mats by Chilewich

When New York-based designer Sandy Chilewich and her husband developed Plynyl®, a woven vinyl textile, it was an instant hit with customers looking for resilient living products. Chilewich has combined the good looks of modern design with the hard-working woven vinyl to create a line of unique, long-lasting floor mats, vinyl rugs, placemats, totes, and bags. Lumens carries the complete line of Chilewich Plynyl® products. If you don't see the item you want, please Contact Us or call us at 877.445.4486.
